

Case history: John Haydn-Jones

Red Kite
Learning

Having been unsuccessful in his attempt to change his career, John was referred to Red Kite Learning by our partner Southwark Works to receive help with compiling a CV and preparing for interviews.

John attended several workshops at the Trinity Street office and says, 'I found them inspiring, effective, supportive and relevant. I enjoyed being in an encouraging learning environment, and working with a diverse set of clients was enormously enriching. The atmosphere was warm and the tutor empowering.'

As a result of attending the workshops, John is approaching his job search with new vigour and confidence.

John concludes, 'The service at Red Kite Learning is professional and caring and I feel very fortunate to have been referred here.'
